-The Acme, Red River and Northern has amended its charter so as to build from Acme, Tex., to Red River, eight miles. The opinion generally prevails that the Toledo, St. Louis and New Orleans Railroad Company, of which N. M. Burns is president, with its principal offices located at Carmi, Ill., is, in reality, the Wabash Railread Company, which is seeking to enter the mineral fields of Southern Illinois through an extension of its line, which now terminates at Carmi. The new corporation was formed March 18, 1962.

Through a revision of its object the com pany expects to receive a charter to construct the following additional lines: From a point near Effinghom, in Effingham County, through the counties of Effingham, Clay, Wayne, White, Gallatin, Hardin, Pope and Massac, to a point on the Ohlo River at or near Prookpert; with a branch from a point at or near Clay City, Clay County, through the counters of Clay, Wayne, Jefferson, Franklin, Williamson and Jackson to a point in Pope or Hardin County; with a branch from the main line at a point in Gallatin County to Harrisburg, Saine County, with spurs or lines from the main line and branch lines in any of said counties to any mines, mining town or points in any of said counties.

The lines which went to make up the New York Central are the Schenectady and Troy, the Utica and Schenectady, the Mohawk Valley, the Syracuse and Utica, the Syracuse and Utica drect, the Rochester and Syracuse, the Buffalo and Rochester, the Rochester, Lockport and Niagara Falls and the Buffalo and Lockport rallways. It is a picturesque fact that the line of the New York Central was the beaten path of ### MEAL TIME CONSCIENCE. What Do the Children Drink!

There are times when mother or father feeds the youngsters something that they know children should not have. Perhaps it is some rich dessert, but more often it is tea or coffee. Some compromise by jutting in so much hot water that there is not much tea or coffee left, but even that little is pretty certain to do harm. It leads to bigger doses. Then come the coffee lift.

It is better to have some delicious, hot food drink that you can take yourself and feed to your children conscious that it will help and strengthen and never hurt them. A lady of Oneida, N. Y., says: "I used coffee many years in spite of the conviction that it injured my nervous system, and produced my nervous headaches. While visiting a friend I was served with Postum, but it was not well made, still I determined to get a package and try it myself, and after following directions carefully the result was all that could be desired; a delicious, finely flavored, richly colored beverage. Since I quit coffee Postum has worked wonders for me.

FOR POSTAL STAMP

Unparalleled Distinction Likely to Be Given by United States in Commemorative Series.

Chief Difficulty Is Whether Portrait of Loubet of France Shall Be Placed in Class With That of McKinley.

The Republic Bureau, 14th St. and Pennsylvania Ave. Washington, May 24.—Shall Napoleon Bonaparte have the unparalleled distinction of epresentation upon one of the postage stamps of the United States? The occasion for this possible departure from established custom lies in the prosthe Iroquois tribes from the east to the west.

In a letter written in New York in 1839 a writer describes railway travel from New York to Lockport as follows:

"We took the cars on State street in Albany; these cars were drawn to the city line by horses, for locomotives were not then allowed in the city. The cars were of the ancient pattern, entered by doors on the side, with seats across the car, the passengers facing each other, as in the old-fashfoned stage coaches.

"The speed was tremendous-about twelve miles an hour. Arrived on the ridge opposite Schenestady, our cars were-let down an incline plane, secured to a large rope cable, the other end being attached to flat cars weighted with stone, which were drawn up on a pirallel track as we went down. At Schenectady we changed cars and traveled west to Utica, reaching there in the afternoon. That was then the end of railroad travel.

"A canal packet was loarded which landed us in Syracuse next morning. There another packet was taken for Rochester, which were ached early the following day. A third packet brought us from Rochester to Lockport in sixteen hours.

"The time consumed in coming from New York City to Lockport was nearly four days, being on the move all the time, except the night spent at Albany." pective issue of stamps by the Postoffice Department to commemorate the purchase of the Louisiana tract of land from France In 1803.

The decision to issue a special series of stamps has not been finally reached, but from good authority it is learned that there is little doubt of an affirmative decision. It is understood that the commemorative series of stamps will comprise only four denominations-1, 2, 5 and 10 cents. The details of size, shape and design have not been considered officially, but suggestions as to designs have been made and filed for

It is suggested, and the department officials consider the idea a valuable one, that Thomas Jefferson's bust appear upon the 2-cent value, which is distinctly a domestic stamp, and that Napoleon's portrait adorn the 5-cent stamp, which carries letters to all countries within the Postal Union. In view of the fact that it is contrary to the regulations of the Post-Office Department that the portrait of any living American be placed upon a postage stamp, President Roosevelt is barred. However, President McKinley was the chief executive at the time Congress authorized the Louisiana Purchase Exposition and made liberal appropriation therefor, and it is held that his official act in approving and signing the act is ample warrant for placing his portrait upon one of the proposed stamps. This view of the matter is further borne out by the action of the Congress in authorizing the minting of 250,000 gold dollars to be sold as souvenirs in connection with the Exposition, each bearing the bust of either McKinley or Jefferson—125,000 of each having been coined. Carrying the scheme to France would be entitled to the fourth place.

France would be entitled to the fourth place.

At this point, however, the regulations of the Post-Office Department been up. This rule, as stated, is to the effect that no living American shall be represented upon United States postage statings. President Loubet is, of course, not an American, out he is alive, and the question is, Would the Post-Office Department consider the French President eligible?

In case President Loubet should be ruled out, the fourth portrait must be selected from outside the participating quartet and the bars are therefore completely dewn.

It has been suggested that in this event the portrait of Louis XIV of France, in honor of whom Louiskan was named, might be considered as next in line. Then Columbus, the discovere of America, is brought forward as a proper figure to be thus honored.

—Surveys have been made by the Frisco through the Kiowa and Comanche reservations of the Indian Territory.

—It is reported that the Chesapeake and Ohio has completed surveys for a branch line from the mouth of Blue Creek to Twenty-Nine Mile Creek in West Virginia.

—The Big Four has awarded the contract for the grading and excavating a track hetween Lawrenceburg Junction and Summans, Ind., a distance of eighteen miles.

—The proposed route of the Colorado, Oklahoma and Texas will be from Denison, Tex. to Pueblo, Colo., about 450 miles.

—It is reported that the Kansas City. Mexico and Orient has laid track from Topolobampo, on the Pacific Coast, eastward, a distance of thirty-seven miles, and the line has been located for a distance of 124 miles.

WOMEN'S PORTRAITS. In this connection it may be remarked that up to this date there is no record that any nation save the United States has ever issued a postage stamp bearing the effigy of a sovereign of another nation. At the time the department determined to place the portrait of Martha Washington upon the 8-cent stamp of the series recently upon the s-cent stamp of the series recently issued the assertion was made that she was the first woman to be thus honored by this Government, and this statement was accepted as true until a stamp collector directed attention to the fret that the 44 stamp of the Columbian series issued in 1893 to commemorate the World's Forr at Chicago bore the portrait of Queen Isabella of Spain.

The same Columbian series also contained The same Columbian series also contained the portrait of Christopher Columbus upon the $5 denomination, so that there is no lack of precedent for such action in future if it shall be deemed expedient. Up to this date, however, no foreign King or Emperor had ever figured upon a United States stamp. Queen Isabella holds the record.

The question of color scheme has not been considered. It is possible the stamps may be printed in two colors, the portraits in black and the frame or border in the established colors; but it is more likely only one color for each stamp will be used. The two-color stamps cost the department four times as much as the single-color and involve a vast amount of work for the Buinvolve a vast amount of work for the Bu reau of Engraving and Printing.

Confederate Parade Gives

CANDIDATE WITH ROOSEVELT?

No Carriage Provided for the Proud Old Soldier, but Story That He Wept Is Pronounced Baseless.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL New Orleans, May 24.-There is much talk here of the absence of General Joseph Wheeler from the Confederate parade yes-On one hand it is asserted that terday. General Wheeler did not wish to join the parade because he is a retired officer of the United States Army and on the other hand it is asserted that he was deliberately slighted by those who had the managemen

A third story is that General Wheeler de sired to enter the ranks in his uniform of a volunteer General of the United States Army and that he was told he must wear the Confederate gray, which he declined to General Wheeler's absence from the parade was due to the fact that Mr. Dinkins, who had charge of getting carriages for distinguished guests, was unaware of the fact that General Wheeler was in town until after the parade had begun and when it was too late to get a carriage. General Wheeler did not arrive here at the beginning of the reunion, but dropped in on the second day, and his arrival was not reported to Dinkins. Captain Dinkins says of the matter:

Tota

Tot Zin

"Everybody came to me for carriages, that is, those who desired them. They were not tendered to any one. Some of the friends of General Wheeler should have come to me and asked for a carriage, for the reason that General Wheeler could not, however delicately, do so himself. I did not have any idea that General Wheeler was in the city until passing through the corridor of the St. Charles Hotel, on the way to the parade. At that time it would have been impossible to procure a carriage for the General, even had I known that he

"There were twelve carria, thich had seen ordered sent to the hotel by different persons which were not able to pass through the throng in St. Charles and Common streets. You will therefore understand it would have been impossible for me to have procured a carriage," No carriage was sent to Governor Heard of Louisiana and Captain Dinkins said further that he would not have thought of sending General Wheeler a carriage unless requested to do so, as Generals Gordon, Lee and other commanders had all provided their own horses or carriages at their own expense.

Captain Dinkins was asked if the fact that General Wheeler had served in the United States Army since the Civil War had prevented the issuance of an invitation to him.

"That is nonsense," he replied. "The old Confederates are as proud of General Wheeler's record in the Spanish War as courage and ability which brought about the victory at Santiago and but for him Shafter would have lost hope and retired. I myself have been a close friend of General Wheeler for thirty years, and no one has a greater admiration for him than I have." There is still another rumer here, to the effect that General Wheeler is to be the candidate for Vice President with Roosevelt. to toin the parade. The one to the effect that the old soldier kept his room at the hotel and wept at the slight put upon him is surely baseless. General Wheeler was not in his room, but viewed the parade from the vantage point of a stand in the Times-Democrat office.

FLOODS CURTAIL WEEK'S ZINC OUTPUT AT JOPLIN.

Pit of Mines in Peacock Valley Nine Feet Under Water-Heavy Advance Expected.

Joplin, Mo., May 24.-Flood swent the die trict last week, and as a result some mines were inundated and more have received a drenching 'hat will curtail the output at least 10 per cent for the next two weeks. With the average sales of the year only 1.715 tons per week and the output less then that, a further reduction of 10 per cent will leave it only a little over 4,000 tons per week. It is not surprising with this prospect in view that a more active demand was created toward the close of the week while producers are expecting higher prices this week as a consequence.

while producers are expecting higher prices this week as a consequence.

The camp of Badger, which had scarcely recovered from a flood in March, was again inundated by the overflow of Spring River, and the pit mines of the Peacock Valley Mining Company were nine feet under water during the flow of the flood.

The powerhouse and oilhouse were washed away and the office toppled over by the largest freshet for ten years. The Mabel mine, close by, was also under water, and the mines of Meredith Bros., though too high for the flood to overflow, are filled to the top with water, and two months of pumping amounts to nothing. It is believed the water can be drawn from the pit mines by July 1, but it will require a longer time to drain the deeper ground of Meredith Bros. These mines were ready to put upon the market over 100 tons per week.

Oronogo was crippled in output, and work everywhere was given more or less back-set. Even though producers of zinc ore will accept lower prices in the face of a period of greatest promise for steady high prices, Providence steps in and further decreases the output to maintain prices.

The assay basis, owing to fluctuating prices, ranged from $35 to $37 per ton for 69 per cent zinc. Lead generally sold at $34, but a few lots were reported sold at $34,50 per ton.

An increase of 235 tons in the shipment

50 per cent zinc. Lead generally sold at $54,50 per ton.

An increase of 235 tons in the shipment of zinc indicates the stronger demand over the previous week. The situation became acute toward the clure of the week, with a number of producers holding for stronger prices, and it will not be at all surprising if the ore shoots up one or two dollars per ton this week. This belief is strengthened by another rain that set in this morning.

The case which occasioned the ruling is that of the United States vs. Three Barrels of Whisky. A. Graf & Co., claimants. The three barrels of whisky in question were what is known as two-stamp whisky, which signifies that the liquer is directly from the distiller and is pure. The claim of the Government in the case was that part of the original contents of the barrels had been extracted and clear lighor substituted and the color restored by the use of burnt sugar. Altorney Warwick Hough, for the defendant, filed a demurrer contending that under the Federal statute the whisky was not forfeited by the substitution. Judge Amidon, in passing on the demurrer, substantiated that the addition of burnt sugar or any other ingrealent would constitute rectification. other ingredient would constitute rectifica-tion, and would make itquor forfeitable by not being the same that was originally inspected in the package.
